

Gateway to
Global Agricultural Knowledge

Get instant access to research on agriculture, hunger, poverty, and the environment using a valuable new resource—the CGIAR Virtual Library. From just one search engine, tap into leading agricultural information databases, including the online libraries of all the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research (CGIAR) centers. Use the CGVlibrary to discover resources, go directly to the full text of thousands of publications, and stay current on CGIAR research. Custom-select databases you want to search or use the topic-based QuickSets preselected by CGIAR information specialists.

The CGIAR is a strategic alliance of members, partners, and international agricultural research centers that mobilizes science to reduce poverty, foster human well being, promote agricultural growth, and protect the environment.

The CGVlibrary, a global link to leading research on food crops, livestock, fisheries, water resources, forestry, plant genetics, and food and nutrition policy, can be accessed—by anyone, anywhere, at any time—at <http://vlibrary.cgiar.org>.

For further information contact CGVlibrary@cgiar.org